MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. Ben Evans
Executive Secretary

FROM: Bruce T. Johnson
Director of Data Processing

SUBJECT: NSC Request for Analysis of Computer
Patents

REFERENCE: NSC Request, Undated, Subject: Analysis of Computer Patents (ER #79-2555)

1. The Office of Logistics, having been given action responsibility for reference, asked OD&E and ODP for assistance. Finding the NSC request singularly uninformative, I called the NSC Staff contact, Mr. Jake Stewart and, through his secretary, learned that the "unsolicited proposals and patent disclosures" mentioned in the reference are in the hands of [REDACTED] in ORD.

2. I confirmed, in a telephone conversation with [REDACTED] that he indeed has the documents in question. I recommend that action on this matter be redirected through the Deputy Director for Science and Technology (DDB&T) and the Director of Research and Development (D/ORD) to [REDACTED].

REFERENCE: Memo to Ex. Sec., CIA fr Staff Sec. NSC, undtd (DDA 79-3495; ER 79-2555); same subj.

1. This Office has been tasked with preparing a response to the subject memorandum. While we are charged with administrative responsibility for patent matters involving Agency contracts, we have no knowledge of any unsolicited proposals and patent disclosures for the development of superluminal computers. (S)

2. A copy of the referent memorandum is attached for your information. We would appreciate any assistance you may be able to provide. Of particular help would be the synopses and other technical data requested. (U)

3. Your response by 14 November would be appreciated, since we have been given a due date of 16 November. (U)

MEMORANDUM FOR:

BEN EVANS
Executive Secretary, CIA

SUBJECT: Analysis of Computer Patents (U)

The Agency has received unsolicited proposals and patent disclosures for the development of superluminal computers. Please prepare a synopsis of these proposals, noting the quantum theoretical grounds on which they are apparently based. In addition, it would be helpful to understand other claimed consequences of this line of investigation, such as extraction of very large quantities of quantum zero-point energies from the vacuum of space. We would appreciate a response by c.o.b., November 16. (S)

The NSC staff contact is Jake Stewart, 395-3622. (U)
